FIGHT AGAINST THE NEW COUNTY

Greensboro Lawyers Oppose Measure.

Pass Resolutions Appointing Committee To Resolve Against Passage of Act and to Ask County Commissioners to Do Same and to Inform Legislature of Sentiment of County Regarding Matter—Some Interesting Figures Obtained From Tax Books.

The Greensboro members of the Guilford Bar Association in session yesterday afternoon took the first step in the fight against the taking of a portion of Guilford and adjoining counties, surrounding High Point township, and establishing a new county, to be known as Piedmont. A committee was appointed to draft resolutions protesting against the creation of the new county and to appear before the commissioners and request that they do likewise. The resolutions follow:

"Whereas, certain parties residing in and near High Point, have applied to the General Assembly of North Carolina for a new county:

"And Whereas, the undersigned, members of the Bar of Guilford county, residing in Greensboro, N. C., are opposed to the establishment of the new county, and are of the opinion that it would be impracticable and unwise to create the same and believe, from the information that we have, that the citizens of the territory of Guilford not included, and some of those included in the proposed new county are opposed to the creation of the same:

"Now, therefore, be it resolved on this the 7th day of January, 1911, the undersigned members being present and voting: That A. M. Seales, John N. Wilson, E. J. Justice, John A. Barringer, T. J. Murphy and G. S. Bradshaw be and they are hereby appointed a committee to prepare suitable resolutions against the establishment of said new county and the taking of any of the territory of Guilford county for such purpose, and that said committee be and they are hereby instructed to appear before the Board of County Commissioners at their next meeting for the purpose of asking said board to pass resolutions objecting to the creation of such new county and to do whatever may be in their opinion necessary to inform the members of the Legislature of the sentiment of Guilford county in regard to the establishment of such new county.

"Resolved Further, that the Secretary of this meeting be and he is hereby instructed to send a copy of these resolutions to the members of the Legislature from Guilford county, and that a copy be sent to the local papers and the News & Observer for publication."

The County Commissioners meet tomorrow and it is more than probable that the committee will appear before them with the request that they protest against the passage of such an act and do whatever they may deem necessary to inform the legislature of the sentiment of Guilford people regarding the matter.

While but few Greensboro people have expressed themselves on the subject it is understood that the people of the rural districts, both inside and outside the proposed county are strong against severing any portion of the county as at present constituted. In fact, some of those living inside the proposed county who signed the petition which was circulated when the agitation was commenced, after looking into the matter closely, have been heard to express regrets for having been so hasty. Those who have informed themselves as to the sentiment in the rural districts state that fully three fourths of the people are against the proposition, having ascertained that the taxes will have to be increased. And a number of prominent High Point citizens, who come to Greensboro several times each week, have expressed themselves as against the proposition.

Senator Hobgood, who is spending Sunday with his family, was seen yesterday afternoon regarding his position on the new county. While he stated that personally he was opposed to it, he refused to make any statement for publication, further than to say that if the people of the county wanted him to oppose the proposition and so informed him he would take up the fight in the Senate. It is known that Representative Dillard will fight the measure on the floor of the House. The opinion of Representative is not known, but some of his friends here say he is not in favor of the county.

It is an established fact that the proposed county will not be a paying proposition. The assessed valuation would have to be increased materially or the tax rate nearly doubled in order to make both ends meet. Granting the fact that the portions of the other counties proposed to be taken in pay into the funds of their county as much as they receive the new county would go in debt each year about $9,000 as the following figures show, these figures being taken from the tax books for the fiscal year: Assessed valuation of portion of Guilford proposed to be annexed to the new county $4,021,995. Number of polls, 1,824.

Taxes Levied This Year.

State	8,801.88
Special School	2,026.41
General Purposes	9,509.26
Poor fund	603.23
Road Fund	4,055.53
Schools, general	9,958.38

Total Taxes levied $35,944.69
Sheriff 5; Treasurer 2 per cent. $1,758.14
3 per cent. loss by insolvents, etc. 753.49 2,511.63

Total taxes available $33,433.06

Disbursements
(The State and special school funds given below are fixed and the remainder of the disbursements are obtained by finding eighteen per cent of the total expenditures for the entire county, the portion of Guilford proposed to be taken off containing eighteen per cent of the taxable values of the entire county.)
State Tax $8,801.88
Special School 2,026.41
General school and Contingent fund 12,610.78
County expenses 19,291.50

Total Disbursed in Proposed County $42,730.57
Total Taxes available 33,433.06

Overdrawn this year $9,297.51

Then too a court house, jail, county home, pest house, hitching lot (and a clock on the court house dome) would have to be provided. As the county would have no funds there would have to be a bond issue of at least $100,000 to equip the county. The interest on this bond issue at 5 per cent. would approximate $5,000 per year, which added to the $9,297.51 which the portion of Guilford proposed to be annexed received from Guilford over and above the amount contributed by the that portion of the county would make an annual deficiency of over $14,000.

Inasmuch as the promoters of the new county have referred to the fact that Durham county has made better progress during her 28 years than has Guilford during the past 130 years, The Telegram has been requested to publish some figures taken from the annual report of Durham county. In 1909 Durham issued a funding bond issue of $150,000, which added to a bond issue of 1887 of $30,000 made a total bonded debt of $180,000. The total receipts for the fiscal year, ending Dec. 1, 1910, for general purposes and for the road fund were $68,436.50. At the close of the year there was a floating debt of $37,738.03 and in addition $8,448.05 of the $30,000 bond issue was borrowed to meet running expenses. The general fund on Dec. 1 showed a balance of $1,586.15, while there was an overdraft of $504.28 in the road fund.

WORK OF THE WOMAN'S CLUB

Reviewed at Monthly Meeting Yesterday.

Reports Received From Several Departments—Civic Department Arranging Elaborate Program For National Civic Day—Fund For Educational Department of State Federation—Mr. J. P. Cook to Speak In February.

The regular monthly meeting of the Greensboro Woman's Club was held yesterday, at the usual hour, in the assembly room of the Carnegie library, the president, Mrs. G. W. Whitsett, presiding.

Mrs. Kimball, in her monthly report, showed that the civic department was doing good work along the lines of clean streets, sanitary public buildings and the general appearance and health conditions of the city, and announced that the department was arranging a very attractive program for national civic day, March 10, which is to be Reciprocity day, when the general club and members of the Junior Civic League will be entertained. The department has also in mind some noteworthy undertakings which will mean much to the city, and she called for more workers in this very important and promising field. While the handful of women in this department are earnest, faithful workers, there are not enough of them to successfully carry on the work projected.

In connection with the report of Mrs. C. W. Tenney, chairman of the literature department, a letter from Miss Adelaide Fries, of Winston, chairman of the literature department, State Federation, was read, in which she urged the club to enter the literary contest, which, as was the case last year, will be an interesting feature of fine arts evening at the State Federation meeting in May. The subjects for papers are: "History of Your Own County" and "What the Study Clubs Have Done For North Carolina."

A letter was also read from Mrs. F. L. Stevens, of Raleigh, chairman educational Department State Federation, in which she called attention to the scholarships and loan fund offered by the department to young women denied opportunities for an education in any other way. She cited the case of one young lady in particular who was now completing her course and needed more money than available unless the clubs throughout the state responded more liberally. On motion of Miss Mary Petty the Greensboro club pledged ten per cent of its receipts from club dues to this perpetual loan fund. In Mrs. Stevens' letter honorable mention was made of one bank—the bank of Warrenton—which every year contributed thirty dollars to this worthy cause.

Following reports of chairmen of departments the club Year Book, just from the hands of the printer, was distributed among those present, the tasteful way in which it was gotten up eliciting much favorable comment. The Year Book committee was given a vote of thanks and the printers complimented on its typographical appearance. Copies were handed the chairmen of departments and those who were not present yesterday can secure them by applying to the chairman of the department to which they belong.

The corresponding secretary, who at the December meeting was instructed to extend to Mr. J. P. Cook, of Concord, an invitation to address the ladies at the February meeting on the subject of the Stonewall Jackson Training School, of which he is the founder and to which he has dedicated his best energies, reported favorably, and on motion of Mrs. W. H. Osborn it was decided to change the hour of meeting on that day from 10:30 a. m. to 3 p. m. This was done in order that all the club members who complain that they cannot be present on Saturday morning may attend, as it is especially desired that they show their appreciation of Mr. Cook's visit and the great cause in which he is enlisted by giving him a good audience. The hour of meeting will be changed for this one day and this occasion only, the business meeting lasting from 3 to 4, after which Mr. Cook will tell about the work of this very successful reform school for youthful offenders—something which has long been needed in North Carolina. Six new members were elected and much routine business transacted.

LAYMEN TO MEET THIS AFTERNOON

All Interested Urged to be Present.

Preliminary to Anniversary Services to Be Held This Week—Session At Grace Church This Afternoon At 3 O'clock—Rev. Melton Clark To Speak—A Program For the Anniversary Services.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock at Grace M. P. church will be held a meeting of the missionary committees of the various churches in the city, together with the pastors and other laymen interested in the Laymen's Missionary Movement. Rev. Melton Clark will make an address on the "Standard Missionary Church."

The meeting is primarily for the purpose of arranging for the details for the anniversary services Thursday and Friday in commemoration of the great Laymen's Convention held in this city last January. A number of matters will come up for discussion, notably the matter of arranging reports from all churches at once in order that the increase and work of the several denominations may be figured out and placed on a large wall map and displayed conspicuously during the sessions of the convention.

It is most important that there be full attendance of the various missionary committees and pastors at the meeting this afternoon and all laymen who are interested in missionary work are most cordially invited to manifest their interest by attending.

At the anniversary services Thursday and Friday will be speakers representing all denominations and the sessions promise to be of much interest as well as of a most instructive and inspiring nature. The sessions will be held in the First Presbyterian church and admission will be free.

The committee on preparations has had 1,500 cards printed and these have been placed in the hands of the missionary committees of the several churches of the city. The cards are to be placed in the hands of men who will agree to attend the convention as much as possible and will entitle them to reserved seats. Men who propose attending this meeting should obtain these tickets. All seats not taken at the hour for the service by holders of tickets will be open to the general public. This means that both men and women are invited to the convention this time.

Blanks have also been sent to the chairmen of the missionary committees and pastors asking for reports of work done along missionary lines since the great convention last winter. It is desired that each church mail one copy of this report to Mr. Charles A. Hines, not later than Monday night, and keep another to read at the convention.

Below is a program for the occasion, subject to some minor changes:

Oh, ye scattered ideas! ye scattered ideas! ye consolidate.
I have on previous occasions written some funny poems and thereby gained a reputation as the harmonious poet, but have discarded all funny things as I feel it is time to be serious.

It is against my nature to write love poetry, although I am able to do so. I'm feeling it working on me now, and will ask the readers to keep quiet during discourses and have the sergeant-at-arms, while I turn on the light of the poem that I have recently written in my thinking chamber.

Monday is the day for dyeing blue,
As the ladies' love seems to be running true;

Tuesday is the day for dyeing wine,
Said they: "We are going to get in line."

Wednesday is the day for dyeing brown,
As they are all fixing to leave town.

Thursday is the day for dyeing yellow,
As they are all looking for their fellows.

Friday is the day for dyeing pink,
Said they: "We are all going to the skating rink."

Saturday is the day for dyeing black,
As their love seems to be running slack.

NIGHT 1442

LIBERTY PIEDMONT INSTITUTE.

Wallburg, Jan. 6.—The holidays are over and the students are all back again at their usual tasks. Quite a number of new students have registered for the Spring term's work, and they continue to drop in every day.

Mr. G. T. Cochrane, of Thomasville, and Mr. Robbins, of Greensboro, were recent business visitors in the town.

Mr. R. L. Wall, who has been spending the holidays at home has returned to Philadelphia, where he is taking his junior year in medicine at Jefferson University.

Mr. Fred and Miss Inez Day were the guests of Miss Maude Wall for a few days, returning to their home in Winston-Salem Friday.

The town was unusually lively during the holidays. All of the college boys and girls were at home and of course brought with them their usual merriment.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wyrick and Misses Minnie and Myrtle Jenkins of Greensboro, have been spending several days with relatives in the town.

Miss Cora Neal has returned to Greensboro, where she is teaching, after spending a few weeks at home.

Messrs. Griffin and Ben Wall left Monday for Wake Forest where they are in school.

Mr. J. H. Neal was a business visitor to Stokesdale today.

Mr. A. M. McQuiston has returned to Charlotte where he is taking his senior year in medicine.

The W. M. U. of the Baptist church will observe next week as a week of prayer. All members are urged to be present.

Mr. J. E. Motesinger has gone on a business trip to several points in Virginia.

Miss Mary Farrell, of Winston-Salem has returned to her home after a short visit to friends and relatives in the town.

Mr. J. H. Mason of the Charlotte Observer was a pleasant visitor in the town for a few hours one day last week.

Prof. E. L. Middleton, of Raleigh, assisted by others is holding a Sunday School Institute in the Baptist church. The institute will be continued through the 8th and it is a rare opportunity for the Sunday school teachers. The lectures and suggestions are excellent and beneficial.

Several citizens of the town and a number of the community people are building a telephone line extending to the Winston-Salem exchange.

Mr. Poppy of the People's National Bank of Winston-Salem, was a recent visitor in the town.

Solves a Deep Mystery.

"I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart," wrote C. B. Rader, of Lewisburg, W. Va., "for the wonderful double benefit I got from Electric Bitters, in curing me of both a severe case of stomach trouble and of rheumatism, from which I had been an almost helpless sufferer for ten years. It suited my case as though made just for me." For dyspepsia, indigestion, jaundice and to rid the system of kidney poisons that cause rheumatism, Electric Bitters has no equal. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only 50c. at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

A RELIABLE COUGH MEDICINE

Is a valuable friend. Foley's Honey and Tar fulfills this condition exactly. Mrs. Charles Kline, N. 8th St., Easton, Pa., states: "Several members of my family have been cured of bad coughs and colds by the use of Foley's Honey and Tar and I am never without a bottle in the house. It soothes and relieves the irritation in the throat and loosens up the cold. I have always found it a reliable cough cure." Howard Gardner.

A UNIQUE WHITE SALE

IT IS AN OCCASION MOST UNUSUAL

LONG AGO,

when the plans for this event had their beginning, we determined to make it forcibly demonstrate the superior resources of this store. Our efforts have been singularly successful.

In the vast extent of assortments, broad gauge buying facilities are exemplified. In the beauty and excellence of goods, a thorough technical knowledge of qualities find expression. In the splendid values, the ability to turn every market and trade condition to advantage is evidenced.

Looms have never woven BETTER white goods than we now present. From sturdy domestics to dainty garment material, the selections embrace a complete range of white fabrics for every personal and household need.

Wonder-working machines have never produced lovelier laces and embroideries than are now assembled here in matchless varieties. THE UNDERMUSLINS ARE EXQUISITELY DAINTY. They are fine in material and making, accurately sized and perfect fitting. Tasteful and durable trimmings have been applied in novel and attractive effect. The scope for selection is almost unlimited—the money saving advantages are many and important. We invite your attendance at this event in the enthusiastic belief that its extraordinary opportunities for the economical purchasing of high grade white goods are of supreme importance to every thrifty woman.

MILL ENDS

Large mills that make Cotton Fabrics for the wear of ladies and children, contract far ahead for the sale of what they know well they will have, but try hard to prevent fabrics commonly known as seconds. When the weaver makes a mistake his machine is stopped and the fabric is taken out, it may be 1 yard or it may be 20. These are accumulated and sold in bulk at much less than regular price. We contracted a year ago for them, and commencing Monday will offer them from one-fourth to one-half less than the same goods can be sold from whole piece. The collection this year is many times larger, and more space devoted to the sale of them. We will cut any piece that will leave as much as three yards.

Thousands of yards will be found here both white and colored, light and heavy. The greatest gathering of laces, embroideries and muslin underwear ever shown in the State, all at January white sale prices.

The Telegram with a number of other papers fell into error Friday in assuming that a bill adopted by the House of Representatives prohibiting near-beer applied to the whole State. It applied only to Macon county. But it ought to have applied to all other counties as well. Prohibitionists and anti-prohibitionists are agreed that if we are to have prohibition there ought to be no half way business about it.

If North Carolina's constitution is of the hobble-skirt variety, by all means there should be a constitutional convention for the purpose of submitting amendments. But we don't believe that one of the amendments should be to give the Governor the veto power. It makes no difference if North Carolina is, as the Governor pointed out in his message, the only State whose chief executive hasn't the veto power. It is not inconceivable that North Carolina should be right and all the others wrong. The trend of political thought today is away from not toward one-man power. The people are supreme and legislatures come nearer being adequate exponents of the people than Governors.

High Point folks are keeping up the fight for the new county. But it seems that the people in the portions of Randolph and Davidson affected by the proposed change in county lines don't want a new county. It is said that even in High Point there is strong objection to the project and we understand that the portion of Guilford, outside of High Point, that would be included is also opposed to the new county. The people in that portion of Guilford that would be left will generally line up against the proposition. In all of the three counties affected and in the portions of territory which would comprise the new county there is the belief that a new county would mean higher taxes all around and higher taxes are not exactly what the folks are looking for in these times. The late Dr. Melver used to say that people ought not to be afraid of high taxes, that taxes increased as civilization advanced and wherever taxes were high (provided of course there was no graft or mismanagement) the fact meant the existence of a community spirit that made for the highest and best development of the people. But the average man doesn't feel that way about taxes. So we think we see the beginnings of a grand army of standpatters in regard to present county lines and that the signs are favorable for the new county to die "a-bornin'."

In the following paragraph the New York Commercial gives its explanation of how it happens that the general business of the country is not what it ought to be:

That the general business of the country today is not what it ought to be at this season is so patent to every man of affairs that the merest mention of the fact is a platitude. That it is not what it was expected to be in view of the abundant crops and other favoring conditions is something that the most cheerful optimist will not deny. What is the matter with it? The question gets asked or asks itself almost every minute of the business day from one end of the country to the other. And the practically universal answer is—the tariff. Not that the Payne-Aldrich law is all wrong, all bad; but, to define the situation briefly and to state the case broadly, the masses of the people were grievously disappointed over the failure of Congress to revise the Dingley schedules as they had confidently expected—that is, downward—and this disappointment, together with the poor prospect for any further tariff revision by the present Congress, has bred an uncertainty, not to say discouragement, that is very generally conceded to constitute the principal factor retarding the rehabilitation of trade.

The New York Commercial ought to be a pretty good authority and we have no doubt that it has located at least a part of the trouble. Another part of the trouble is to be traced to the fact that the panic of 1907 is too fresh in people's minds for them to invest their money freely. There is too much money lying idle. While it seems that there are plenty of men ready to be caught in the traps of the "get rich quick" sharpers, there is certainly a dearth of men who are willing to become interested in other than the stereotyped forms of investment. But to get back to the argument of the New York paper, the vote in November showed unmistakably that the public is dissatisfied with existing tariff schedules and this very dissatisfaction, amounting in many cases, as the Commercial says, to discouragement, has not a little to do with the unsatisfactory state of trade.

THE CHILD IN THE DARK.

Baltimore Sun.
A little lip quivers, a little heart quakes,
When a child in the night mid the darkness awakes.
A little sob slips through the lips that are sweet
And a little voice stirs in the room with intreat.
All the shadows loom large on the chairs and the wall,
And a horrible something seems hovering o'er all;
A little hand clutches the covers to hide
The head and the eyes from the great big outside.
But the cry of the child in the dark's ever heard
By the love that bends near with a comforting word;
And an arm of sweet comfort is there to enfold
The little one's trouble with kisses of gold.

Every noise in the room to a child in the night
Is a sound to astonish, alarm and affright;
Thought may only be fairies that wander around,
The child in the dark magnifies every sound.

I'm a child in the dark, oh, my Father above,
And I cry through this night of our life for Thy love.
Won't you come, as the mother comes down to her child
With the kiss of the lily on loved lips and mild!

Mr. and Mrs. Porter Entertain.

Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Porter were host and hostess for a bridge party at their home, 123 Schenck street. There were sixteen guests present, who report a most delightful evening. For refreshments, a delicious salad course was served. The decorations were carnations and asparagus ferns.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all the other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Rough on the Pianos.

Once in the company of President Diaz I spent a few nights in the Mexican earthquake zone as the guest of the governor of the state. As a measure of precaution the plaster ceilings of our sleeping rooms had been replaced with strips of matched boarding. "If a trembler should come in the night, senior," remarked my host as he was bidding me good night, "wait for nothing, but make straight for the patio. I think these boards will hold until you get from under cover." And that evening, when I took the governor's wife out to dinner, she had remarked sadly: "We are so benighted here in the hot lands. It is impossible even to have music, for no sooner do I have my grand piano tuned than an earthquake comes along and tips it over."—E. Alexander Powell, F. R. G. S., in Everybody's.

Origin of the Opera.

The opera, like nearly everything else interesting in the world of mind, had its origin in ancient Athens. The earliest librettos were by Sophocles and Aeschylus, such as the "Abamemnon" and "Antigone," a band of flutes and lyres constituting the orchestra, the dialogues being musically declaimed and the choruses sung to the best music of the time. Thus do we have the germ of all later developments in the line of opera.—Exchange.

Enforcing the Rule.

The passenger with the huge square package persisted in riding on the rear platform of the car.
"What have you got there?" demanded the conductor.
"It's a painting of Mount Vesuvius—if you think you have to know," said the passenger.
"Well, you'll have to take it to the front platform," said the conductor.
"No smoking is allowed back here."—Chicago Tribune.

"Mornin'!"—Chicago Tribune.

Responsibility walks hand in hand with capacity and power.—Timothy Titecomb.

THE RING LOCATED

It Disappeared Six Or Eight Weeks Ago From Mantel of a Eugene Street Residence.

Yesterday afternoon Sergeant Jones, assisted by Officers McCuiston, Foushee and Jefferys, arrested Martin Worth, Paul Mullin and Chester Stroud, all colored, in connection with the theft of a valuable diamond ring, the property of Mrs. B. M. Graves.

Six or eight weeks ago Mrs. Graves was visiting at the home of her uncle, Mr. John L. Thacker, on Eugene street. Paul Mullin and Chester Stroud delivered a trunk for her. She had placed her ring, worth $227.50, on the mantel. After the men had left she missed the ring. The police were notified. Mullin and Stroud were searched, but the ring was not found.

Sergeant Jones went to work on the case and recently ascertained that Martin Worth had disposed of a diamond ring at a pawn shop. He obtained from Worth the statement that he had been paid by Paul Mullin the sum of $2.50 to negotiate a sale of the ring, which is said to have brought $25.

The three negroes will be given a hearing before Judge Eure tomorrow morning.

New Judicial Districts.

State Senator F. P. Hobgood was seen yesterday by a reporter regarding the establishment of additional judicial districts. Mr. Hobgood being chairman of the committee on judicial districts. He stated that there were bright prospects for securing four additional districts, the evident need of more courts being apparent to practically all the legislators. He stated that he did not think the state would be divided into an eastern and western circuit, as recommended by the attorney general.

Granite Boulder Falls From Top of Building.

Late yesterday afternoon on South Elm street, a piece of granite from the top of the Grooms building, corner of Lewis and Elm streets, fell to the sidewalk, narrowly missing a negro man who was passing at the time. The Electric Fan.

Back in the early eighties Dr. S. S. Wheeler, an electrical engineer of New York, was experimenting with a small electric motor. In the course of his experiments the doctor conceived the idea that steamboats might be run with electricity if the propellers could be directly connected to high speed electric motors, doing away with all the gears then in use in steam propulsion. With this idea in mind he had a small screw propeller constructed and fastened it to the armature shaft of his small motor. To his surprise the experiment resulted in a fine breeze of cooling air which more than delighted the experimenter, for the day was decidedly hot. It is needless to add that the experiments with screw propellers ended right there, and the engineer took up the study of the electric fan, with the result that he soon perfected the device until it was a commercial success.

Bonnyclabber.

New drinks have sometimes a glorious and brief popularity. Lord Stratford, writing to Lord Cottingham in 1835, extols "bonnyclabber," which he says "is the bravest, freshest drink you ever tasted. Your Spanish don would, on the heats of Madrid, hang his nose and shake his beard an hour over every sop he took of it and take it to be the drink of the gods all the while."

No one, however, seems to know the exact composition of the seductive "bonnyclabber," although from an allusion to it by Ben Jonson it would seem to have been a mixture of beer and buttermilk.—London Chronicle.

Willing to Divide.

Cobble—I should like to lend you that $10, old man, but I know how it would be if I did. It would end our friendship. Stone—Well, old chap, there has been a great deal of friendship between us. I think if you could make it five we might worry along on half as much.—Life.

The Fateful Message.

Hubby—Didn't I telegraph you not to bring your mother with you? Wifey—I could not help it, Frank. She insisted on coming after she'd read your telegram.

Genuine benevolence is not stationary, but peripatetic. It goes about doing good.—Nevins.

Rise of the Morgan Dynasty.

Current Literature.

Most of our wealthy men started in small ways. Carnegie was a messenger boy. Rockefeller tramped the streets to get a petty clerical job. H. H. Rogers and Russell Sage were grocers' clerks. Harriman was a broker's office boy. James J. Hill was a section hand, or something like that. But four generations of the Morgans have been born in the purple, so to speak. The Morgans dynasty runs back to the days of the American revolution. Joseph Morgan, after fighting in Washington's army, proceeded to lay the fortune of the house. It did not take him long to rise to the control of the chief transportation lines in Connecticut. They were nothing but stage lines, but they were worth controlling just the same. Later on he figured as one of the capitalists of the Aetna Fire Insurance Company, of Hartford. His grandson is J. Pierpont Morgan, Sr., and young J. P. is, of course, his great grandson.

Of all the millionaires of our day, Morgan the elder remains the most inscrutable. All the others, Rockefeller, Harriman, Rogers and the rest have at one time or another thawed out in the presence of the newspaper and magazine men. Morgan has never thawed out. His personality is as far removed from public scrutiny now as it was when he was the centre of the whirlwind contest with Jay Gould 40 years ago.

In the Shadow of Fame.

There are a number of former celebrities who are now running rooming and boarding houses in New York city. Many a singer, actress or writer who formerly held a place in the public eye has now settled down to the prosaic occupation of housing and feeding a small portion of that same public. Their houses are a magnet for young persons with the artistic temperament. One woman who once enjoyed a fair reputation as a violinist has five furnished apartments which she sublets room by room to aspirants for dramatic, operatic and literary honors. Reflected glory rather than physical comfort is the portion of most of these satellites, but the privilege of hobnobbing with yesterday's greatness compensates for material discomfort.—New York Press.

For LaGrippe, Coughs and Stuffy Colds Take Foley's Honey and Tar. It gives quick relief and expels the cold from your system. It contains no opiates, is safe and sure. Howard Gardner.

CORNELL HAS MARVEL STUDENTS.

Nicholas Wiener, Only 16 Years Old, Has Wonderful Record.

New York World.

Harvard is not the only university with a youthful scholastic marvel, such as William James Sidis, for in Nicholas Wiener Cornell possesses a student who celebrated his sixteenth birthday anniversary last Saturday and who is taking second year graduate work. He was graduated from a Massachusetts high school when only 11 years old, and completed the regular four-year course at Tufts College in three years, leaving that institution at an earlier age than that at which Sidis will receive his degree at Harvard. After one year at Harvard he won the Sage graduate scholarship at Cornell and this fall he came to Ithaca.

The master of several languages, many sciences and most theoretical mathematics, Wiener is specializing in philosophy at Cornell with a view to teaching that subject. His program of study consists of courses in empiricism, rationalism, ethics, the history of philosophy, experimental psychology, and as subsidiary subjects reading Plato in the original, German reading and the theory of functions in mathematics.

Young Wiener's father, Prof. Leo Wiener, of Harvard, is a Russian, like his colleague, Prof. Boris Sidis, father of William James Sidis, and his mother was born in Kansas City, Mo. Professor Wiener is assistant professor of Slavic languages at Harvard, formerly teaching romance and Germanic languages at Missouri State University.

At 18 months young Wiener knew his alphabet; he could read and write English at two and a half years, and when 4 years old he was acquainted with most arithmetic and some French. From 5 to 6 years of age he was in the second grade in the country school at Foxborough, Mass., and when he was 7 he passed through the third and fourth grades, staying in the latter only one or two weeks. Then for half a year he was unable to do any reading by order of an oculist, who feared the boy was becoming nearsighted. During this period he was tutored in chemistry, Latin, history and English, and as soon as he could read again he commenced geometry and trigonometry, and was well along in analytical geometry before entering at 9 as a special student the high school at Ayer, Mass.

There in his first year he studied Caesar and Cicero, English history and advanced algebra. In his second year he entered the senior class, taking up Virgil, German, English and solid geometry, and studying American history himself. Upon graduation at 11 he entered Tufts College.

The first year at Tufts he studied advanced mathematics, metaphysics, history, Greek and English; the second year the same, except history and English with physics, political economy, French and Latin. His third year was devoted to organic chemistry, vertebrate anatomy, Greek Latin, philosophy and calculus.

In spite of his unusual mental attainments and his very thorough general education, he is a normal, healthy boy.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY PILLS

Are tonic in action, quick in results. A special medicine for all kidney and bladder disorders. Mary C. Abbott, Wolfboro, N. H., says: "I was afflicted with a bad case of rheumatism, due to uric acid that my kidneys failed to clear out of my blood. I was so lame in my feet, joints, and back that it was agony for me to step. I used Foley's Kidney Pills for three days when I was able to get up and move about and the pains were all gone. This great change in condition I owe to Foley's Kidney Pills and recommend them to anyone suffering as I have." Howard Gardner.

It's a good thing to marry for love but money naturally makes a girl more lovable.

For either acute or chronic kidney disorders, for annoying and painful urinary irregularities take Foley's Kidney Pills. An honest and effective medicine for kidney and bladder disorders. Howard Gardner.

EMERGENCY CLUB.

Umbrellas and Rubbers Supplied to Girls of New York School. New York Evening Telegraph.

One of the unique clubs in Greater New York today is the Emergency Umbrella and Rubber Overshoe Club, composed of 1,100 girl students of the Normal College of the city of New York, at Park avenue and Sixty-eighth street. The feature of this organization is that although there are 1,100 women indirectly connected with the rainy day department, there are but 50 umbrellas and the same number of pairs of rubbers. Consequently the first 50 students who reach the main floor of the college upon their dismissal for the day have the use of the coveted articles on every rainy day.

The news spread throughout the college that those students that were desirous of obtaining an umbrella and a pair of rubbers for one day could obtain the same by applying to the librarian. The only stipulation was that as there were only 50 rain protectors and the same number of pairs of rubbers, the first 50 girls applying for them would benefit by generosity of the committee.

Of course, the girls at first declined to accept the offer of the committee, but when one of the committee remarked that possibly anyone with large feet would object to making them more conspicuous by wearing a pair of rubber overshoes there was a charge on the librarian the next stormy day that would do credit to any cane rush, football scrimmage or other male college ceremony that ever took place. The emergency umbrella and rubber shoe project now is looked upon as one of the most essential things in the institution.

When asked whether any of the girls neglected to return the loaned articles, Professor Hickinbottom said that never since the articles were supplied has one of them been missed. Even should a student forget to return them, she is held accountable, as the librarian has a book in which are written the names of the 50 girls borrowing the articles.

Foley's Kidney Remedy—An Appreciation. L. McConnell, Catherine St., Elmira, N. Y., writes: "I wish to express my appreciation of the great good I derived from Foley's Kidney Remedy, which I used for a bad case of kidney trouble. Five bottles did the work most effectively and proved to me beyond doubt it is the most reliable kidney medicine I have ever taken." Howard Gardner.

REUNION AT MANASSAS.

Confederate Veteran Suggests a Meeting of Blue and Gray. Washington Post.

I want to make a suggestion to Congress and to the country generally, through your columns, and especially to the surviving veterans on both sides who wore the blue and gray. It is this:

The 21st day of next July will be the fiftieth anniversary of the first battle of Manassas, and it has occurred to me that it would be a gracious thing, and tending to promote peace and good feeling, if Congress would make an appropriation to bring together in a national encampment on that celebrated field the survivors of both armies who actually participated in the battle. The cost would not be great, probably not over $50,000, for there are not many of them left, and some of them would be too feeble to go. We have only 18 out of 140 who enlisted in my old company, and if that proportion holds good in all the other commands that were engaged there would not be many left to transport and feed.

It would be a splendid object lesson to the country and to the world, that 50 years after the battle the Government assembles there the survivors of the two opposing armies to fraternize with each other. It would be a spectacle that could not take place in any other country on the globe, and would have a good effect in promoting the rising tide of peace and good will that seems to be prevailing over the country and in wiping out any remaining animosities. What do you think of it?

New Edition

Now for the first time you get a complete set of all Mark Twain's writings at just exactly one-half the price they have ever been sold before. This is a new edition, just as complete as the old one, which still sells, by the way, at $50.00. This new edition is only $25.00—for the 25 volumes.

It had been Mark Twain's ambition to have his books in every American home, and he made a great personal sacrifice to bring about this remarkable opportunity—for the first time in the history of publishing, copyrighted books are sold at the price of non-copyrighted books—the chance will not come again.

But for Mark Twain's action this would have been impossible. Never before has a copyrighted library set of a standard author's works been issued at such a low figure.

His Complete Works—
25 Beautiful Volumes

Brander Matthews says: "Mark Twain will be included in that group of writers headed by Molière and Cervantes. With the exception of Count Tolstol, Twain was the greatest of recent modern writers, and will be handed down to posterity through the trio of his works 'Huckleberry Finn,' 'Tom Sawyer,' and 'Pudd'nhead Wilson.' Twain is a greater stylist than Stevenson or Thoreau, and his 'Man that Corrupted Hadleyburg' is one of the finest works in English literature." Mark Twain himself wrote a preface to this edition. Brander Matthews has written the biographical criticism of Mark Twain and his work. There are portraits of the author at periods when the different books were in process of writing.

There are beautiful pictures by such artists as Frost, Newell, Smedley, Thulstrup, Clinedinst, Kemble, and Oppen. The binding is in rich red rep silk book cloth, with title labels stamped in gold. The books are printed on white antique wove paper, especially made for this edition. Each volume is of generous size and bulk, 5x7 1/2 inches.

IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Judgment Reserved Till Monday In Ferd Gilmer Case.

Yesterday in Municipal court the case against Ferd Gilmer for assault with deadly weapon on Bertha Wise was continued. A number of character witnesses was introduced and gave their testimony. It was brought out that Gilmer was considered by members of both races as a half-wit, but many of his peculiarities were ascribed to the fact that he is partly deaf and is subject to epileptic attacks. Some of the witnesses had employed Gilmer and testified that he was faithful in the discharge of his duties and was industrious.

Judge Eure seems yet to be at a loss to know just how to pass upon the case. He said that a decision that would be fair in an ordinary case would not be so in the one under discussion. He decided that it would be best to reserve sentence until Monday's session.

It is within the power of the municipal judge to sentence Gilmer a number of years, if he deems the sentence just.

Will Green, a carriage driver who pleaded guilty to the charge of an assault, was taxed with the costs.

BURNT CORK.

The Paste Used by Minstrel Performers When "Blackening Up."

The popular impression as to the application of burnt cork by minstrel performers and actors in general is that it is rubbed on the face and hands of the player from a cork whose end is charred in a convenient gas jet. This impression is, however, incorrect. The burnt cork used by minstrels and others is the product of the theatrical "paint factories," just as is any other cosmetic or pigment employed by the profession.

One house makes it in the following manner: The corks are placed in three tin vessels, resembling wash boilers, with holes punched in their sides and bottom. Alcohol is sprinkled over the corks, and they are "baked." When the corks have been properly charred they are placed in muslin sacks, which are kneaded in barrels of water. This operation forces the powdered charcoal through the sacks into the water.

When all the charred corks have been worked through the sacks into the water in this way the water is drained through a close canvas sack, and what remains in that sack is ready for the performers. The stuff is put up in cans, from which, when the minstrel is ready to "black up," he takes a little of the black paste in his hands and applies it to his face, neck and sometimes his hands.—New York Herald.

A CURIOUS BIRD.

The Crested Hoatzin When Hatched Has Four Legs.

The crested hoatzin of British Guiana is the only survivor of a certain race of birds most of which are now known only as fossils. The hoatzin inhabits the most secluded forests of South America, and its survival beyond its congeners is doubtless owing to its retiring habits and to the fact that it feeds on wild arum leaves, which give its flesh a most offensive flavor, rendering it unfit for food.

The chief peculiarity of the hoatzin consists in the fact that when it is hatched it possesses four well developed legs. The young birds leave the nest and climb about like monkeys over the adjoining limbs and look more like tree toads than birds.

The modification of the fore limbs begins at once after hatching, when the claws of the digits fall off and the whole clawlike hand begins to flatten and become wing shaped. Feathers soon appear, and before full growth is reached not a vestige remains of the original character.

The adult birds not only have no claws upon their wings, but their thumbs even are so poorly developed that one would hardly suspect that in the nestlings we have the nearest approach to a quadruped found among existing birds.—London Tit-Bits.

C. O. Forbis has just about completed the furnishing of Prof. J. A. Matheson's handsome home on South Mendenhall street in which he has installed a complete outfit of the finest productions in reproduced colonial styles. Chippendale and Heppelwhite designs were used for the bed rooms. The work of these men lives forever, though they are gone. It has been two hundred years almost since some of these men went to their reward. They built with heart and hand and today we are following the lines they laid down. 1ti.
